DIRECTOR'S NOTES

The Nutcracker ballet and story have become a holiday tradition. Tchaikovsky's music is spellbinding and continues to delight us. Kodiak's Nutcracker is presented every three years and is an inspiration to all the dancers. Little ones dream of becoming Clara, and one day, the Sugar Plum Fairy.

Over time, Kodiak has come to enjoy the talents of individuals who have become very accomplished dancers. In order to showcase their talents, all of the featured roles are double cast. In addition, the number of dancers has grown so much that the double casting of the youngest dancers became a necessity.

This means the time and effort of all the volunteers have also doubled. This production is a huge investment of time and talent by many extraordinary individuals who donate their energies to bring the community this holiday delight.

We are honored to have the talents of Gregory Waletski, a professional dancer from Minneapolis, grace our stage for the first time. He is not new to Kodiak though; summers he can be found fishing with Claudia Anderson in Bristol Bay. We are very fortunate to have him as part of this production, as you will see as you watch his characterization of the Nutcracker prince on stage.

Please enjoy our gift to the community and have a magical holiday season!

NUTCRACKER SYNOPSIS

It is Christmas Eve; Clara and her brother are dozing outside of the Great Hall, waiting for the party to begin. They peek through the keyhole to see how the Christmas tree and decorations are coming. Relatives and friends begin to arrive and share the excitement of Christmas. All are gathered when the mysterious and magical Godfather Drosselmeyer makes his entrance. The children are enthralled by his toys that come to life, and his entertaining high jinx.

After Fritz steals Clara's hobbyhorse, Drosselmeyer gives her a very special nutcracker. Everyone ends the wonderful evening by dancing the Grand Marche. When the guests have gone, Clara creeps back into the Great Hall to embrace her Nutcracker. As she drifts off to sleep, strange things begin to happen. Drosselmeyer brings in his little Sand fairies and Sandmen to sprinkle Clara with magic sleeping dust.

Little Baby Mice awaken Clara. She is not frightened until the Big Mice appear and the scary Mouse Queen makes the Christmas tree and everyone grow. Her Nutcracker suddenly comes to life and leads the Toy Soldiers in a fearsome battle against the Mouse Queen and her Army of Mice. The Nutcracker is wounded. In desperation, Clara throws her slipper, giving the Nutcracker the opportunity to fatally stab the Mouse Queen. Drosselmeyer magically transforms the Nutcracker into a handsome prince.

The Nutcracker Prince is so grateful to Clara for her heroic deed that he takes her to his kingdom. Tiny reindeer lead a beautiful sleigh to carry Clara and the prince through the Christmas Wood to the Land of Sweets.

The Christmas Tree Angels are dancing as the Royal Pages announce the arrival of the Sugar Plum Fairy with her Ladies-in-Waiting. The Prince and Clara tell about the battle. They take their places on the royal thrones and watch in delight as all the magical treats dance for them.

Finally it is time for Clara to return home. As the Land of the Sweets fades, Clara awakens and shares her wonderful dream with her mother.
